Bellevue Technology Center

On July 26, 2016 City of Bellevue hosted a meeting to evaluate the application for a rezone of Bellevue Technology Center. The applicant intention is to remove the existing PUD currently protecting the area for further development. Removal of the PUD agreement would allow for additional office and/or housing development on the Bellevue Technology Center Site.

Since 1972 the PUD has ensured that the parcel of land was not subdivided into residential housing but was developed as one unit with a plan to preserve the open space and the trees that surround the property while allowing for minimal development at the site.

Previous to the meeting, residents of Sherwood Forest and adjacent neighborhoods partnered together and collected about 600 signatures supporting the PUD remains in place. During the meeting the attendants had the opportunity to present their comments to City of Bellevue and the Applicant.

It is presumed at this time the applicant is working on traffic analysis and modeling. Once this information is presented to City of Bellevue, a second meeting will be scheduled. According to the city planner, this is expected to happen sometime before the end of the year. All parties of record will receive notifications and the information will be also published on City of Bellevue weekly permit bulletin. SFCC will use all available channels to spread the word. You can also become a party of record and stay informed of future meetings and plans by contacting Laurie Tyler, City of Bellevue Planner (details included).
